

CONNELLVILLE WARMLY WELCOMES RETURNING SOLDIERS

COMPANY D AND THE HOSPITAL CORPS GREETED BY THOUSANDS ON HOMECOMING FROM BORDER

Big Supper is Served in the ception Held.

PARADE OVER TOWN IMPRESSIVE

Two Bands, Firemen and Veterans of Former Years Escort the Guard-men Who for Four Months Have Been in Uncle Sam's Service.

The soldier boys are home!

At 10:30 o'clock last night a Pittsburg & Lake Erie train steamed into the West Side station and in a twinkling the members of Company D and the hospital corps were literally in the arms of the thousands of friends and relatives who had waited in the cold for over two hours to welcome the returning guardsmen. It they ever had any doubt as to the esteem in which they were held at home it was dispelled after the homecoming celebration.

Tanned and healthy, they piled off the four coaches of the special train and went trooping down the stairs to be greeted with hearty handshakes, kisses and other demonstrations of affection. It was "Hello, Harry,"
"How are you, Arch," or "Hi, there, Dewey," all the way down to the street and hundreds of hands were thrust forward for a hearty shake.

The soldiers immediately marched to the armory where they will be stationed until mustered out. This may not be for 10 days, it was said last night. The program for this period had not been mapped out, though it was expected the boys would be required to report at the armory each day until the surgeons complete the mustered out physical examination and the men are discharged from the federal service.

burg about 7:15 after one of the biggest days the members had ever had.
The trip to Connellville was prelonged because the special went to Monacaahela City where Company A disembarked. The boys say the people of Monacaahela City and surrounding community gave the soldiers a tremendous ovation. The trip to Connellville was completed over the Whitcomb cutoff.

Two bands were at the Western Maryland station for over an hour before the train pulled in. Donizetti's Italian band was there early and later James W. Buttermore and a band composed of many former Tenth Regiment members, arrived on the scene. In this band were a number of musicians from Scottsdale, some from Dunbar and others from various points in this section, most of whom had served enlistments in the band when it was stationed in Connellville.
Mr. Buttermore was leader of the Tenth band for a number of years, it was a highly good band.

The train was first reported due at 8 o'clock; the next word was that it would arrive at 9 o'clock; still later it was announced positively that the troops would be here at 9:50. The train came rolling in at 10:29. It was rather cold at the station, but despite this fact the crowd remained on the streets. People were lined up from the station clear to Hiramstone Corner.

The first impression of the returning soldiers was how healthy they looked. All were tanned, many had taken on weight; others had merely acquired mustaches, but every one was a picture of the health that comes from outdoor life. Most of the soldiers wore heavy brown woolen sweaters over their khaki coats. Many of them had pets of various kinds.
Sergeant Homer Moore of the Hospital Corps had a little white dog peeping out from under his coat.
Sergeant Carl Snair had a little brown pup. Later it was discovered that Bill Markey had brought with him a Mexican Tomcat, the biggest ever seen here.

After the first greetings were over the company was assembled by Captain R. S. Morton, First Lieutenant John L. Robinson and Second Lieutenant Montgomery Dilworth, three of the youngest commissioned officers in the regiment, and marched to the armory where an oxyster supper prepared by women relatives and friends had been prepared. All efforts to keep the general public out of the armory proved unavailing and the police and firemen at the door nearly gave it up as a bad job. Entrance was even secured by putting ladders against the side windows and climbing in that way.

Quite a number of the guardsmen partook of the fine dinner prepared by the ladies, but many of them had had so much to eat in Pittsburgh that they could not stir up an appetite. A few left the armory for their homes as soon as they put away their equipment. Others stayed but a short while. Still more, however, remained until the early morning hours dancing with their many girl friends.

Kiefer's orchestra started playing for dancing about 11:30 and continued for several hours.

"That certainly is a fine looking company," was the remark of a Spanish-American veteran as he viewed the guardsmen marching up to the armory. "Connellville is justly proud of it."

The guardsmen to a man told their friends they would not have missed the experience, though they admitted they had just about enough. Physically everyone showed improvement.
Some could hardly be recognized, so disguised were they with tan and mustaches.

The high school contingent, Dewey Miller, Fred Daniels, Walter Rogers, William Markey and James Darr, all had taken on weight. Darr was the first of the soldiers to appear. He and Clifford Crowley, of the Hospital Corps, were detailed to accompany the baggage car home. They arrived in the city an hour before the special train, having made the trip over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. "Johnny" could not resist the call to go up street and greet his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Robinson were down from Uniontown early to greet their four sons: First Lieutenant John L. Robinson; Sergeant Harold L. Robinson; Corporal Charles Robinson, and Private William Robinson.
It was an occasion of great joy in all but one instance. The mother of Private Herman Reber collapsed when she was told her son was not with the company. He and Private Edward Crossland had been transferred in the division battery and will not be back until the rest of the Pennsylvania troops return. Mrs. Reber took it very hard, as she expected to see her boy come marching in with the rest of the command.

Phil Schwartz, leader of the hospital corps could hardly be recognized, with a new mustache, a broadened out face and a coat of tan. Big Arch McCormick was one of the first to be seen. He reported having made the most of every minute since he went away. Arch was especially pleased with the reception he and his comrades guardians received in Pittsburgh.

Charles McCormick and Percy Shultz looked much the same, though if anything a little stouter.
Captain "Bob" Morton looked natural and was still the same "good son," unspoiled by his elevation to the captaincy since he left. Montgomery Dilworth, now second lieutenant, was still the same.

Major R. S. McKee, commander of the hospital corps, was even bigger than when he left home, which is saying a great deal. He had wired his folks that he would be home for supper, but he was a little late.
Almost without exception members of both Company D and the Hospital Corps expressed delight over getting home. "We had a fine trip and the experience was worth all it cost, we know," said one guardsman, "but there's no place like home." It seemed to sum up the general verdict.

Major General Clement's efforts to have the boys held on the border has not made him very popular. It was said. The Tenth boys also got a lot of amusement out of the "perfect scurvy" the general gave the Philadelphia regiments on the long practice march.

"They said none of the Philadelphia boys dropped out of line," one of them said, "but we were picking them up and administering first aid to them all along the line." The boys were delighted with the accommodations coming home. Every fellow had a berth and there were two porters to every car. They say all the incoming guardsmen are getting Pittsburgh accommodations. "Even the North Carolinians told us when they got in that they had heard of the hard traveling the Pennsylvania boys had to the border," one man said. It is worth noting that the "Fighting Tenth" made no serious kick against traveling in day coaches, and most of the hard luck yarns came from the city companies.

The train schedules on the homeward trip were very poor. The boys were anticipating two fast runs, the first from Kansas City to Chicago, and the last from Chicago to Pittsburg. Both of those runs were the slowest of the journey, they say.
The women at the armory were really more fagged than the soldiers, they had worked constantly since early in the afternoon to prepare the dinner for the boys, and it was a good one. There was an abundance of everything. Two cakes attracted special attention. They were in three layers each, with red, white and blue fillings, and mounted with American flags. A. B. Morton, H. O. Keagy and several other men were on hand throughout the afternoon and evening to assist the women. J. C. Herwick, former captain of Company D, was at the armory for several hours, while after the boys arrived. Captain Harry Dunn, A. R. Kidd and other former members of the company

SAY LEONARD
WAS TO BLAME

Railroad Contends That Champion Man Lost Life Through His Own Negligence.

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.
UNIONTOWN, Oct. 12.—Testimony was concluded this forenoon in the trial of the $25,000 damage suit of Mrs. Victoria Leonard, of Uniontown, against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, which has occupied the week in common pleas court No. 2 before Judge E. H. Reppert. The case will go to the jury this afternoon.

The defense of the railroad company to the action for damages for the death of James Leonard, who was killed by a westbound passenger train in the Baltimore & Ohio yards in Con-nellville on last November 20, was that Mr. Leonard came to his death by his own negligence. Witnesses for the railroad company testified that a stop was made near the Young bridge in Connellville after the eastbound train on which Mr. Leonard was riding had left the station at Connellville.
The passenger, it was testified, refused to surrender his ticket to the conductor, and was taken from the train at the bridge, being led by members of the train crew to the sidewalk at Water street. After the train started, it was testified, he ran out to the sides of the door of the closed vestibule. He was ejected from this position by members of the crew, and as he turned on the westbound track and started to walk back toward the station, he was struck by a train entering Connellville from the east.

Defense in the trial of the four insurance cases in which Antonio Vir-hoid of South Brownsville, is the pany and the German-American Fire Insurance Company are the defendants, was begun in common pleas court No. 1 today before Judge J. Q.

Van Swearingen. Each of the suits is for $10,000. Claim was made by the plaintiff that following a fire on October 8, 1914, which burned his store and house in Grant avenue, South Brownsville, arbitrators were appointed to settle the amount of the claim against the insurance companies. The plaintiff claimed that his arbitrator stated the arbitration agreement under a misapprehension.

SAYS WILSON
SOUGHT VOTES

German-American Leader Tells of Efforts to Swing Tenth Struggle to Administration.

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—That Senator W. J. Stone of Missouri, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, told him on September 16 last President Wilson's anti-German-American policies were merely for public consumption and that privately the President and his associates in the Administration were ready to work hand and glove with the German-American leaders, is the statement made today by Victor Riddor, vice president of the Staats Zeitung Company.

Angered by the charge of Norman Kantup that he told State Senator Kent V. Keller of Illinois, that the German-Americans had an agreement with Charles E. Hughes to make a speech upholding their contentions concerning the British seizure of mails and the British commercial blockade, Mr. Riddor, through the Republican National Committee, today issued a sensational statement concerning not only the alleged activities of Senator Stone but of Albert S. Burleson of Texas, Postmaster General. On the falsity of Senator Stone to enlist the sympathy of Mr. Riddor and other prominent German-Americans, after arguing with them from 8 o'clock in the morning of the following day, Mr. Burleson came to New York and took up the work, Mr. Riddor said.
Mr. Burleson failed as Senator Stone did, added Mr. Riddor, because the only German-American he could induce to talk to the Postmaster General was George Sylvester Viereck, editor of Fatherland.

Mr. Riddor states that he and his brother, Bernard Riddor, president of the Staats Zeitung Company, were invited to the White House by State Senator Keller, who posed not only as the representative of the President, but (Colonel) E. M. House, to get personal assurance from President Wilson of his friendliness toward Germany. Neither of the Riddors went.

TWO FALL ACROSS TRACKS

Locomotive Brought to Standstill

Pair; Many See Thrilling Episode Which Barely Escapes Being Fatal.

One of the most thrilling rescues ever seen in this town occurred at the North Pittsburgh street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad about 8:30 o'clock last night.

A boy about four years old eluded his father and trotted out on the tracks just as a Pennsylvania railroad engine and caboose came backing northward toward the station. The flagman was out guarding the crossing but the boy ran past him. The engineer dashed forward and grasped his seat but slipped and fell upon the tracks. By this time the engine was almost upon them.
The flagman waved for the engineer to stop but then to make sure ran in front of the caboose and turned the air cock open, thus applying the brakes. The whole incident happened in only a few minutes but many persons saw it. The father picked up his son and disappeared down Pittsburg street. The heroic brakeman signalled his train to go ahead as "though it was all part of a day's work."

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

An attractive home wedding, was that of Miss Vella Cora Decker, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Decker of Greenwood, and Arthur M. Nemon of Dunbar, solemnized today at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride in North street. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Ellis B. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, of which the bride is a member, in the presence of only the members of the two families. The bride and bridesmaids were unattended. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a traveling suit of navy blue wool velvet trimmed with red, and a hat of black panne velvet with a red tulle veil. Her carriage was formed of ornate, sweetheart rose, and maddening fern with a background of exquisite lace, and caught with two-toned lavender silk ribbon. Previous to the ceremony Miss Agnes Nemon of Dunbar, a niece of the bridegroom, played selections from Mendelssohn, followed by the bridegroom, from Lohengrin. During the ceremony Miss Nemon, who played Mendelssohn, "To a Wild Rose," and after the ceremony Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered.

The service was followed by a wedding dinner at which covers for 27 were laid. At the bride's table covers for 11 were laid. A charming pink and blue color scheme prevailed. The centerpiece at each table was a cut glass vase of gladioli roses, while hand-painted and crystal candlesticks held unceasing pink candles adorned with bows of blue ribbon. Pink marble bags filled with rice and caught with blue ribbon, small squares of the bride's cake in dainty white boxes, adorned with hearts and cups, and tied with blue ribbon were the favors. The place cards were embellished with bride parties.

The library where the ceremony was performed and other rooms on the first floor, were decorated with crystal vases of cosmos, lilies, bunches of wild lilies, and beautifully dried autumn leaves. Displayed in a jar on the second floor were a number of handsome wedding gifts.

The ride is one of Connelleville's most widely and favorably known young ladies. She was graduated from the Connelleville High School, a member of the class of 1908, and for several years was a stenographer for the West Penn Railways Company. The bridegroom is a prominent business man of Dunbar. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Nemon of Dunbar and is cashier of the Central Bank at Dunbar.

How to Heal Skin-Diseases

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ring worm, measles and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable drugstore get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These are not at all expensive. With the resinol soap and warm water baths the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a hole bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Almost any soap will clean the skin and hair. But those who want a soap which not only cleanses but actually helps the complexion and hair are wise to choose resinol soap.

YOU CAN'T FIND ANY DANDRUFF, AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT

Save Your Hair! Make It Thick, Wavy, Glossy and Beautiful at Once.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment. A 25-cent bottle will double the beauty of your hair.—Adv.

SHORTAGE OF SKILLED LABOR

Principal Cause for Delay in Completion of New Hy-Product Coke Plants.

The work on construction of the new hy-product coke plants at different points throughout the country is being impeded greatly by the shortage of labor. The building of these plants requires the services of skilled mechanics of several kinds, a class of workers that is much more difficult to recruit at the present time than common laborers.

One plant expected to be completed this month will not be ready before next February or March and others are being delayed in about the same proportion. The approach of cold weather will not help matters so far as a labor supply is concerned.

Immediately after the company's arrival a parade was formed at the Baltimore & Ohio station. Red fire was burned in liberal quantities. Civil and Spanish-American war veterans, Sons of Veterans, and the fire department participated. Freeman J. Hoffner was chief marshal of the parade. The streets along the line of march were decorated with dazzling arches of lights in colors. Illuminated "Welcome Home" banners spanned the streets. Flags and bunting of the national colors profusely adorned all buildings along the streets paraded.

A half hour before the train bearing the company reached Somerset fire whistles, bells, etc., were sounded. Music was furnished by bands from Berlin, Frederick, Spangville and Somerset. Numerous automobile parties went to Pittsburgh to greet the company where it arrived there yesterday afternoon.

ROUSING WELCOME GIVEN BOYS OF E AT MT. PLEASANT

Big Parade and Lots of Red Fire Mark the Homecoming.

LUNCH SERVED AT THE ARMOY

Following the March Up Main Street Most of the Boys Quickly Took Our Wines and Sweets and Entered Orders and Old Soldiers Took Part.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Oct. 12.—Company E, Tenth Regiment, was given a rousing reception by the people of Mount Pleasant and vicinity. Special street cars were run in over the different lines and at least 3,000 people were at the Baltimore & Ohio depot to meet the company. The freshmen in uniforms of white trousers and tan coats and caps, acted as special officers and parade the main thoroughfare where the line of march was to be held. It was at least 15 minutes after the arrival of the soldiers at 10:40 that the parade which acted as escort to the company got started up Main street. The street was lined off, but even then it was hard to keep the crowd back. The parade was almost a mile long and moved rapidly up the street after it got started. The streets were handsomely decorated.
Company E boys were escorted by the members of the G. A. R. and the ladies of the G. A. R. in automobiles, and the Spanish-American War Veterans. William Keller, at the head of the parade, led Spike, the company mascot, a large bull dog. The Military Monks, the Elks, and many other organizations were in line, with three bands and a drum corps. Twenty autos were in the parade.

A line of the firemen and the regular police officers were stationed in front of the armory to keep the crowd back while the boys were dismissed and quietly put out the back door.

The members of Company E are required to report every morning at the armory at 8:30 o'clock until mustered out.

There were many humorous situations as the parade passed. One of the soldiers split his sweetheart on the sidewalk. While the boy was all attention a minute before, a sight of his girl was all that was needed to put love before duty. He broke ranks and, amid the cheers of the crowd, embraced her.

Sandwiches and pickles and hot coffee were served the boys at the armory and the Elks had open house and a spread that would feed two companies.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My trouble started with pimples making their appearance all about my face, neck and body. The pimples were large and hard and were red and festered, also appearing with yellow heads. They were cuticular and the skin was very sore and disfigured.
My face was very disfigured."
"This lasted for about two months and I found my face treated and when this failed I gave up hope

INDOOR LIFE MAKES FAT

Try Oil of Kerein to Keep Weight Down, or to Reduce Superfluous Fat.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-plumpness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to any good druggist and get a box of oil of kerein capsules, and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy.
Footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of kerein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial. A. A. Clarke—Adv.

CAR SHORTAGE HITS KENTUCKY

Mining Operations There Being Seriously Restricted; Energetic Efforts to Provide Some Relief.

Kentucky-Tennessee coal operators are practically unanimous in the opinion that unless some relief can be obtained from the prevailing shortage of cars, the entire country will before January 1 be facing the most serious coal famine in its history.

United States Geological Survey figures show that coal consumption has increased 25 per cent. in the first six months of this year as compared with the same period last year. Since July 1 the increase has been greater, while car shortage has been growing worse and worse.

Officials of the Southern and Louisiville & Nashville railroads and the Interstate Commerce Commission have been appealed to, to no avail, as both roads are now giving a scant 50 per cent. supply, which, however, is above the average of the coal-carrying roads of the country.

Conditions are now critical; operators are daily receiving letters and telegrams threatening suit if contracts are not filled, while large steam coal users from distant points are coming in person in an attempt to secure coal deliveries.

Prices have been advancing by leaps and bounds, but operators are benefitting little by this, as most of them are shipping on low-priced contracts, getting only a three days' run with six days' overhead expense and labor becoming disorganized because of short runs. Railroad men say the shortage is due to unusual movements of traffic of all kinds and the failure of other roads to return coal equipment.

Coal operators state that they have done all they can to improve the car supply, and that it is now up to the railroads and Interstate Commerce Commission to see that coal equipment is given proper handling. They claim that this is the only thing that will prevent many large steam plants from closing down and actual suffering among the public because of inability to secure heating coal.

SOLDIERS GOT RELIEF FROM SORENESS

Boys on the Border Relieved Their Pains and Aches With Sloan's Liniment.

Once upon a time Norman Jones, serving in the National Guard at El Paso, returned to camp after a strutious 15 mile hike foot-sore and leg-weary. He had not been long in active service and his shoulders, back and limbs felt the after-effects of marching.

Remembering Sloan's Liniment, Jones applied it to the sore spots and went to bed. He writes: "I awoke the next morning feeling fine; in fact I had entirely forgotten about the hike and went out for a four-hour drill in the sun as spry as ever."

Private Jones passed the experience along, and many a boy on the border relieved the agony of sprains, strains, bruises, insect bites, cramped muscles, rheumatic twinges, etc., by the use of Sloan's Liniment.

Readily applied without rubbing. At all druggists, 25c., 5c. and $1.00.

Escape TOOTH Troubles

—by keeping your teeth REALLY CLEAN.
"But," you say, "I brush my teeth regularly, yet they decay." Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them?
Tonight, after brushing your teeth, examine them closely. You will likely find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Decay, as well as the dangerous gum disease called Pyorrhea, usually develops only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the formula of a dental specialist, keeps the CLEAN. It embodies specially prepared soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea.

Go to your dealer today and get a tube of Senreco—keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay. Send 4c. to Senreco, 304 Walnut St.,

RED SOX HAMMER MARQUARD; TAKE THE FOURTH GAME

Brooklyn is Unable to Stom the Tide of Boston's Onslaught.

LEONARD IS VERY EFFECTIVE

Wavers in the First Inning But After That He Holds the Superbas at His Mercy Throughout Contest; Gardner's Homer Settles the Game.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Boston Americans drew one notch nearer the world's championship here yesterday afternoon when they defeated the Brooklyn Nationals 5-2 in the fourth game of the series which now stands three to one in the Red Sox' favor. Today the contest will be renewed at Braves' field at Boston where will be the deciding game will be played before what may be a record crowd.

With yesterday's contest at Ebbets' Field, the players ceased to participate in the financial returns and the Boston men with their two game lead are eager to close the season and receive their reward. The Superbas, however, refuse to be ousted out of the struggle and are determined to win if possible and force the Red Sox to return to Brooklyn where the home team can make a last desperate stand.

The manner in which the Bostonians tore into the Brooklyn team here yesterday afternoon left no doubt as to their intention of ending the series as quickly as possible. Pitcher Leonard spotted the Nationals' two runs in the opening inning but his teammates more than made up the handicap in the second section and once in the lead refused to permit the Superbas to creep up on them. The earnestness in the matter, as shown by the fact that yesterday was the first time since the initial game against the Philadelphia Nationals in the series of 1915 that the Red Sox have won from their rivals by a margin of more than one run.

The contest, although featured by several sensational plays, did not rise much above the average of a regular season contest. Once Leonard swung into form, the Brooklyn batters found it impossible to push a runner around the plate because of the steady twirling of the Fresno, Cal., boxman who was finely supported both on the offense and by defense by his tough mates. Long slashing hits ripped off the bat of the Red Sox to be charged against the accounts of Brooklyn's pitchers, while splendid catches, stops and throws made the way easy for Leonard.

The Brooklyn club gave its supporters great hopes of repeating the victory of Tuesday when two runs were put over in the first inning on Johnston's triple, Myers' single and the base on balls and an error by Janvrin who in his eagerness to get Myers at the plate, fumbled Cuthaw's grounder. Knute Marquard, Manager Robinson's selection for a second try against the Red Sox in the initial inning but Gardner took much of the mystery out of his delivery when he hammered out a home run, his second in two days, with two on bases in the succeeding session. Marquard walked Hoblitzel the first man up and Lewis advanced him to third with a double to the right field wall. Gardner then cleaned up with his homer, a drive to deep center.

The Red Sox added another tally in the fourth when Lewis singled, went to second on Gardner's sacrifice and scored on Marquard's sacrifice. Another was added in the fifth when Cheney, who replaced Marquard in the box after Pfeffer had batted for the former, passed Hooper who stole second and scored on Hoblitzel's double. The final run of the game came in the seventh. Janvrin, second up for Boston scored Hooper, who had singled, went to second on Walker's sacrifice and scored when Hoblitzel grounded to Cheney whose throw to first hit the runner.

Cheney was soon afterwards replaced by Nap Rucker. Thus it came about that both this veteran pitcher's ambition to work in a world's series game and the fans' desire to see him in that position was gratified. Rucker, pitching with great deliberateness and wide sweeping curves, held the Bostonians stolid to the end. In the two innings he held command he fanned three of the six batters that faced him and allowed but one hit.

Of the four twirlers in the game Leonard's work was the best. He allowed but five hits in nine innings, struck out three, gave four bases on balls and made one wild pitch. Boston collected 10 hits off Brooklyn's three pitchers for a total of 11 bases while the Superbas secured five hits for eight bases. Hooper made the Arthur Jones Is Now Well Man, Made so by Tanlac.

Arthur Jones, harness maker, living at 118 E. 17th Street, Erie, Pa., made the following interesting statement regarding the remarkable benefits he received from Tanlac. Mr. Jones said:

"I have suffered greatly from stomach trouble, and catarrh of the head and throat. My condition grew so bad that I have found myself in no shape to work for several months. I had no appetite and whatever I ate caused gas to form on my stomach and a sickening feeling followed. My nerves were all out of sorts, and I was generally run down, so much so that I couldn't sleep much at night, but have remained awake for hours at a time. I needed the sleep, too, and my condition worried me no little."

"I saw Tanlac advertised in the papers and heard some friends talking about it. I got some of the medicine and have taken it for about two or three weeks. The first dose of Tanlac helped me and I have improved steadily ever since."

"I can now sleep good at night, I have a firm appetite and suffer no more stomach trouble or catarrh. I am a well man, and I owe it all to Tanlac. I am going to return to my work in a few days. That is what Tanlac did for me."

"Tanlac is now sold in Connelleville exclusively by Connelleville Drug Co., where the premier preparation can be had."

Tanlac can be secured in Dunbar at D. C. Esson's Drug Store.—Adv.

only been used but nine players to the home club's 15.

Weather conditions were the best of the series to date. It was a perfect Indian summer day with a clear sky and just a suggestion of a south wind.

"THE MAN WHO WOULD NOT DIE." Directed by William Russell, is being presented as the feature attraction today. Ward and Clyde Kingsley are twin brothers, whose resemblance is so much alike that even close friends find it hard to distinguish between them. Ward loves Agnes Pendleton, an heiress, but because he feared the world would think he married her for money, he gave her up and went away. His brother Clyde was not burdened with such fine feelings, but a dissolute character at heart, eventually marries Agnes. As the story opens they are living in California and Agnes' fortune has been squandered by the irresponsible Clyde. Clyde with a disreputable friend of many years, plots to insure his life for $100,000, and after he has arranged for a corpse for the occasion to disappear and have his wife Agnes collect the insurance, later dividing the ill-gotten gain with Mercer. Agnes revolts at the growing plan and denounces him as a scoundrel. Later on she pays her respect to Mercer who has long looked upon her with lustful eyes. Just at this time Agnes receives a letter from Clyde's twin brother, now in a New York hospital, that he is given up to die and informing them that this was his last message and blessing. "The story is intensely interesting and has a happy ending. Tomorrow Owen Moore and Hazel Dawn will be seen in "Under Cover," a five part Paramount production. Other members of the cast are William Courtleigh, Jr., Ethel Fleming and Ida Darling. Saturday, William Hart will appear in "The Patriot," a five part Triangle attraction.

A Sale of Cedar Chests

$12.95 Friday and Saturday Only $12.95

"WHY doesn't some store have a sale of CEDAR CHESTS?" asked a lady of one of our department managers just the other day. It seemed a mighty good idea, as such sales are decidedly uncommon, and this seemed a most opportune time for besides the Chests, which are needed right now for personal use, there will be many more needed for gifts a little later on, but which could just as well be purchased now. The price, $12.95, is so special that we can afford to offer it for only these two days.

As to the Chests

—They are of genuine Tennessee red cedar, 42 in. long, 19 in. high, and 17½ in. wide. Trunk-style tops with round corners. Highly polished. Fitted with handles, castors, lock and key. As our supply of these is limited to ten, we seriously advise that you select yours fairly early. Friday. Will be on sale in second floor annex.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no denying it. Having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—puffy—fatigued look in your face—dull eyes with no spark. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substance for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for their olive color, 10c and 50c per box. All druggists.
